

Course Code of Conduct

Last Updated: April 10, 2020

We want this course to be an enjoyable experience for everyone who takes it. Here are a few ground rules we expect to be followed.

1. Course integrity - As a student, you are responsible for your own learning. There are several ways to connect with us if any questions arise including forums on most topics. The expectation is that you will do the work, activities, and quizzes yourself.

2. Respect - When communicating with staff or other students, all language and imagery should be respectful.

3. Plagiarism - This is when you submit words or pictures from other people as if they were your own. Plagiarism is not acceptable. If you use someone else's material during the course, simply include a note (or citation) that explains this.

4. Internet etiquette - This is an expected code of behaviour while taking the online course.

- cell phones or other devices are not used while doing course activities such as quizzes
- all communications should be respectful. If you wouldn't say it, or show it in public, then don't say or show it online
- when submitting work, keep file sizes reasonable

Not following the course code of conduct could result in a course suspension.
